

RAILWAY SAFETY CRITICAL WORK POLICY

The company, through its Senior Management Team, is committed to fulfil its moral and legal obligation in regard to the Railways and Other Guided Transport Systems (Safety) Regulations 2006.

Transys Projects Ltd is bound by the Railways and Other Guided Transport Systems (Safety) Regulations 2006. in its undertaking to provide site staff to work on installation and commissioning of company products as the need arises from its Systems Design and Engineering Projects or other Projects.

The company will ensure that all personnel affecting safety whether by design, supply or installation are competent to carry out their duties, thus minimising any potential to introduce risks onto the railway network.

We undertake to provide a company Railway Safety Critical Work Manual, which will provide Company Policy Statements and Requirements the application of which ensure we meet and discharge our legal and moral obligations.
